

Arts & Music

McClelland's art to be featured Saturday at Weigand Gallery

Susan Connelly McClelland's works of encaustic art will be on display at Weigand Furniture & Fine Art Gallery in downtown Galax this Saturday. The artist will also be present.

Encaustic painting is a rarely used ancient Roman form of layered wax painting. The marbled look of McClelland's paintings portrays jeweled landscapes and gemstones.

A professional artist for 25 years, McClelland has a home in Grayson County. Her work has been featured in regional juried shows, has been featured in Home magazine and is owned nationally and in notable private collections.

The gallery will be open Saturday from noon-5 p.m. and will offer director's discounts on McClelland's artwork & Richard Weigand's fine furniture.

Weigand Furniture & Fine Art Gallery, is located at 117 W. Grayson Street in Galax. For more information, call (276) 238-0868 or email WeigandGallery@email.com.

